Editor's Letter

Dear Everyone,

Thank you to all those who have submitted articles for our news letter; in particular the two schools, Boynton and Kilham Primary. It is really good to hear what the children of our village are doing. A special thanks also, to Chris Gatenby for her splendid research into people who have lived in our village many many years ago

Tony Ezard, who sadly passed away on November 7th, was a well known character who helped so many people in the village. He audited the church accounts for many years and was a parish councillor for over 30 years; many of those as chair. Tony was also a contributor to the news letter for many years. Tony will be sadly missed and our thoughts are with his wife, Sue.

If you turn to page 11, you will see all the people who helped Ian Simmonds with the painting of the war memorial. Unfortunately Ian reports that a few days after the service, someone has removed or stolen one of the wreaths that was placed there. He says that he fastened both wreaths on with the twine and this has been cut. The wreath that Dick Robinson laid on behalf of the Yorkshire Regiment had been taken!! These should remain in place as a reminder to all who pass the memorial. How very very disappointing.

The next event in the village hall is a "Pop Up Pub" on January 12th. This is a new venture, aiming to provide the people of Rudston with entertainment. We do hope that as many as possible will support this project.

I expect many households will soon be caught up in the "whirlwind" of preparations for Christmas. Those involved in schools, be it children, parents and indeed teachers will be so busy ,probably in a deluge of tinsel, angels, donkeys and all manner of sparkle.

Let us not forget the older children, who are doing exams after Christmas. Good luck and try to find some time amongst all the revision for some Christmas frivolities!

I hope that you all have all lovely Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Each evening will be a chance to take a little time out (about half an hour) to sit, listen, ponder and pray. From June Sellers (Social Secretary to Rudston P.C.C)

This month we remember two former members of the Bowls Club sadly no longer with us.

Early in the year we lost Jeanette Ward. The term “infectious enthusiasm” probably sums up Jeanette’s approach to the game. When she enjoyed it those around her did too, including (or particularly) Alwyn of course. The result was secondary: to win was nice, but if we lost it was only a game. I can still hear her mischievous murmur “diddle-de-dum!” when a bowl narrowly missed the jack at pace and went whistling by.

Then in November we bid goodbye to Tony Ezard. Tony and Sue were both very good players from the early days. Tony won the club Open Singles competition in each of the first 5 years, 1983-87 and Sue won the Ladies competition in its first years 1984-87. That record of Tony’s has never been equalled and probably never will.

On a personal level I came to know Tony better later through the parish council, particularly during his 12 years as chairman. As clerk throughout that time I would often call round at their home, always to a warm welcome whatever the latest problem, not least from the dogs!

Pop songs at funerals may be an acquired taste, but if any of us were startled by “Twist and Shout” as he was carried into the chapel he would have been delighted. “Waken the beggars up!” he would say, or words to that effect. Afterwards, for some strange reason, I recalled that poignant episode of “Last of the Summer Wine” when a crowd of both adults and children gathered on a Pennine hillside to say farewell to Compo.
See ya Tony. Phillip Crossland

RUDSTON HERITAGE HISTORY GROUP

In October John Walker told us about life in Rudston in the 1800's. This was largely based on the "Constable's Book" a record of the spending of the parish Constable, which gave a fascinating insight into life in Rudston. Amounts were recorded for spending on the control of sparrows, on parish relief, on repairs to parish property such as the bridge and the sheep wash

John pointed out the poverty that many people would have lived in at the time, and the friendly societies such as "Ancient Shepherds" provided help such as an income during sickness, and medical help for those who had paid a subscription into the club.

The talk was illustrated with wonderful old photos.

In November our meeting was in church and we welcomed speakers from the Yorkshire Wolds Railway who told us about the "Malton Dodger". This name was given to the Malton to Driffield trains as the stations were often some distance from the villages they served!

We were told something of the history of the line, from the first trains running in 1853, to the peak of the service in 1902 and the final closure in 1958. In 2008 the Yorkshire Wolds Railway Restoration project began with the aim of creating a heritage railway based at Fimber, there is now a short length of restored track, with an engine, a visitor centre and more to come.

The second half of the evening we travelled along the line, with photos and maps of each station, often with contemporary photos showing the station buildings still in existence – or not. The speakers had brought lots of interesting material for us to see. For more information see www.yorkshirewoldsrailway.org.uk

The December meeting of the History Group is on Thursday 20th December, 7pm in the Village Hall. This is the Christmas Evening, so if you have something interesting to show, or to see if anyone can help you to identify please bring it along. If you don't still come – admission is free this evening and there will be mince pies!

The next meeting is Thurs Jan 24th, 7pm "MY MUM'S WAR" An illustrated talk by John Walker, with research about his mother's experiences, discomforts and conditions she had to tolerate during ww2 whilst his father was in the 79th Armoured Tank Brigade fighting across Europe after Dunkirk.

All welcome, admission £2 including tea/coffee and biscuits.

William Pride

William's name appears on the Rudston war memorial as “WILLIAM PRIDE, Munition worker”

The 1881 census shows us William aged 5, living with his family at Thorpe Hall, where his father William is coachman. In 1891 William is Footman at The Hall, Hildenby, near Malton. His employer is Sir Charles Strickland who was owner of Boynton Hall. There were 11 domestic servants in the household, including William's sister Charlotte, who was nursemaid. The household also included Sir Charles's nephew

Henry Marriott, who was the estate manager. and is a relation of Mr Richard Marriott, who now owns Boynton Hall. In 1901 William is a footman in a house in Grosvenor Square, London.

In 1911 William is the butler at Thorpe Hall, one of 15 domestic servants of Sir Alexander and Lady Alice Macdonald.

At some time after this William moved to Watford and became a shopkeeper and munitions worker at Watford No 1 works, at Bushey Mill Lane, near the railway station. On the morning of 13th February 1917 a fire broke out in the powder mixing room. The Watford Fire Brigade and teams from local works attended and many hundreds of girl workers were evacuated. The fire was prevented from spreading and firemen, led by the Superintendent carried boxes of explosives out of the burning building. There were no reports of the events at the time because of wartime security, and the gallantry medals given to the firemen were not awarded until after the war. Two men from the mixing room, Charles Moorcroft and William Pride were injured. They were taken to hospital, but died of their injuries.

I think William must have been buried in Watford, but I have been unable to find out any more about this.

William Pride senior died in 1899 and it seems that the rest of the family moved to London. William senior is buried alone in Rudston churchyard, near the monolith and the inscription on his grave says:

I look for the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come, WILLIAM PRIDE, died at Thorpe December 26th 1899 aged 55 years This stone was erected by ALEXANDER WENTWORTH MACDONALD BOSVILLE and ALICE EDITH his wife in memory of a faithful friend and servant who had lived as coachman at Thorpe Hall for over twenty nine years
Most of the research was done by Frederick and Michelle Stephens of Bridlington.

The Village War Memorial

The war memorial has had a complete restoration, ensuring that it looked great for the 100th anniversary remembrance service, which was well attended on the 11th.

Thanks to the following people who gave their assistance and supported me with the task - Bob Overfield, Trevor Smallwood, Paul Burgess, and Jon Oliver. Thanks to Andy Hire in Bridlington and A Dawson & Co. who kindly supplied the use of height access equipment. Thanks also to Tricia Owen, who allowed us to use the water in her field, making the cleaning process much easier.

The paint system is designed for 25 years so should keep it looking good, well into the future.

Village Hall News

We are pleased to say that Shirley is back as chair of the village hall committee. Thanks to Kathryn Smith who was acting chair, during Shirley's recent illness.

The refurbishment of the hall is now complete and everything back in place. We are very lucky to have this facility in our village, together with the excellent team of volunteers.

I am trying to book the theatre group Bad Apple for a visit, as so many people enjoyed the last theatre visit.

We are to have a return visit from the Library Theatre company in April. I will keep you informed, as soon as I know dates.

The committee are hoping to organise a Burns Evening on January 26th and would be pleased to hear from anyone with any expertise in this area!

Finally...our new venture. We hope that eventually the Bosville will reopen. However, many people have asked if we could have a village hall pub. We have researched this to find that many villages have pubs in the village hall.

We hope that many people from the village will pop into our licenced bar and if it is a success, then it will become a regular event.
Merry Christmas from the Village Hall Committee.

Kilham Church of England Primary School

(Helen Jameson Acting Headteacher)

It's been a very busy time at Kilham CE Primary School. As we hurtle towards Christmas and the days are getting darker and the weather a little bleaker there are plenty of little stars at Kilham School to brighten up our days.

This half term the children joined many others across the country in an act of Remembrance.

They embraced the theme of 'Remembering' in school, with all of the children enjoying the performance of 'The Time Capsule' which was all about World War 1. It was lovely to see how the children were moved by what they saw and how much empathy they had for the soldiers and their families. The children painted stones with poppies on to remember the soldiers and their families as well as visiting church and the cenotaph.

This term Kilham has continued to shine in their sporting achievements. Mrs Atkinson, who puts a lot of time and effort in to providing children with sporting opportunities, is overwhelmed by the successes we have experienced this term. Please join me in congratulating the children.

1. East Riding Small School champions for Boys football.
2. East Riding Boys under 11 hockey winners.
3. Girls Football runners up.
4. Driffield School Hockey –Winners
5. Humber Side Girls U11 hockey – 3rd

Finally I would like to say a big thank you to the Kilham School community for making me feel so welcome during my term with them. Kilham School is special and Mr Palmer, the new head who starts in January, has a treat in store for him. I wish you all lots of luck for a bright and exciting time ahead.

Boynton School Class 3

Our names are Erin and Gracie and we are Y6 children at Boynton Primary School and we would like to tell you about some of the things we have been doing this term. We think our class is the best class ever because we do lots of fun things and learn loads at the same time. This term we are learning about World War I; we are expanding our minds by researching harrowing and heroic information about the Great War. Sometimes it can be quite gruesome too, like when we learnt about trench foot! We are really enjoying this topic and can't wait to learn even more!

To help with our learning, we went on an amazing trip to Ryedale Folk Museum, which is an outdoor educational museum, on Wednesday 24th October. We wanted to learn more about the Great War and took part in some role-play activities. All the pupils thoroughly enjoyed this amazing trip and learned a great deal from it like how to do a field dressing and what soldiers would carry in their kit bags. We also went on a trip to Headlands Secondary School to take part in there WWI activity day were we did some: creative writing; acting; dancing; singing and drumming WWI style! This was really cool and there were lots of other schools there joining in too. .

We were able to use the skills we learned here to show the rest of the classes in our school and we even did a special assembly for our parents.

In literacy, the Y5's in our class have written beautiful poetry through the eyes of a soldier in the trenches about what they could hear, see and feel. It was really hard for them to imagine what it could be like but they got there in the end! One of the lines from Darci's poem was 'The taste of victory of this strong fight I fought is bitter in my mouth as I lay dying, dying...' They are amazing!

Sculpture was the theme in art and we used chicken wire, cardboard boxes and papier-mache to build our own trenches which we think are real masterpieces. We used: lolly sticks; shreddies for sand bags; mud and wire wool and they look very realistic and fit well with this time of year.

On Wednesday 20th November we had a whole afternoon to make some WWI themed decorations for a Christmas tree festival at St Johns Church in Bridlington. We made footballs to represent the Christmas truce, poppies to represent the fields of Flanders and doves for the Christmas spirit and to represent peace. We had a really good time and made some amazing crafts and working with the younger children in the school. This half term we are going to create a menu of trench food for us to plan, prepare, cook and taste. We are really looking forward to it (we just hope it's not too disgusting!)
