Editor's Letter

Dear Everyone,

Firstly, I would like to welcome the new families who have moved into our village. I'm sure that you will be very happy and hopefully join in some of the village activities.

We have had quite a few of those recently.

The play Two 2, by the Reform Theatre was absolutely brilliant and received a standing ovation at the end. The producer sent me the following email the next day,...."we all enjoyed the evening. The audience was great and what a great way to end our tour".

The Afternoon Tea on May 18th, in the Village Hall was enjoyed by many. It was a charming afternoon, with delicious food. The proceeds of £400 were donated to the British Heart Foundation. Well done to "Team Teresa"

We look forward to the next Wander Inn, the village hall pub, which is to be a fish and chip night. Details are on page 11.

The Village Hall Barbecue on July 6th is to be held in our garden. Details on page 9.

It is a delightful time of the year to be in our village. I love it when the cows appear in the field behind our house; this year they have been joined by a very small calf with little white socks.

The mother was very protective when they first came into the field. In fact, she behaved like a night club bouncer when there was anything boisterous occurring. No animal including rabbits and birds were permitted near her precious baby and she stood very still for ages when the calf was feeding. How things change in a matter of weeks. The calf is usually at the other side of the field from the mother and when it does wander over for a drink of milk, she is very dismissive and with a swish of her tail, lumbers off to seek more tasty grass. The calf scampers off, not to be deterred and can be seen frolicking around and now able to munch lots of its own grass.

The joys of living in the countryside!

Finally, to all those young people who are revising for exams.

I hope that it isn't too onerous for you.....it will soon be over!

Dear Friends,

We are in June already and for those of you, like me, who are sports fans there is an array of sporting activity this month. We have Cricket – England v Pakistan; Horse Racing at Royal Ascot and of course, the tennis at Wimbledon begins. So against this backdrop, I want to share with you some lessons I've learned from the sport of tennis.

I have watched, as I'm sure you have, some tremendous battles on Centre Court. I can't help but think that in some ways some tennis match's mirror life.

Several parallels come to mind. First, tennis is filled with errors. Most every serve, nearly every volley will end in a point attributable to someone's mistake. Mistakes are part of the game. The very best players make mistakes. But winners learn how to deal with their own lack of perfection – in spite of years of practice – and still go on.

Second, the game isn't over until it's over. A tennis match requires two winning sets before the game is complete. You can lose the first set and still pick yourself back up again. It's hard, but you can do it. You can come back in the second and third sets and still win. Don't give up just because you lost the first round.

Third, mental toughness is just as important – even more important – than raw talent and skill. If you feel disappointed, lose your focus, lose your confidence that you can win this game, it is fatal. I know what it feels like to win, as well as the extreme frustration of losing to someone who isn't as skilled as I. It requires mental toughness to come back from being battered down by an opponent.

My fourth point – there is another day. Whether we win or lose today, the world isn't over. Life goes on. You may have been beaten down by life. You may have been crushed by circumstances. Something may have played to your weak side and got the better of you. But don't give up. Don't quit.

Perseverance is vital to the Christian life – determination, commitment and the will to continue even against the odds.

Fortunately, life is not like tennis as one singular point. When you are playing a singles match, you're on your own. But in the Game of Life, Christ is with you. The Holy Spirit is present to strengthen you. Your family, friends and others you know are rooting for you, and there to encourage you in the fray. You are not alone. Draw on the resources God has given you. Don't be a rash loner.

I think of the Apostle Paul who saw many spiritual victories, but went through depression, beatings, deprivation, prison, shipwreck, betrayal, and abandonment. Near the end of his life, he wasn't looking back in bitterness, but forward in hope. "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day – and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for his appearing." (2 Timothy 4:7-8).

Don't give up. Don't quit. If you want to win in the game of life then you must serve well. We must serve one another. You live to fight another day with Christ at your side. And you – with Christ – will succeed!

Love & blessings,

Revd Barbara

Acknowledgement of Thanks

Di and family would like to thank everyone for the help and support they have recently received. They are overwhelmed by the kindness and generosity and it has been a source of comfort during these initial days, after the sudden loss of Nige. He will be treasured forever.

After going through the whole of last season with no cancelled matches the very first one this year fell foul of the weather. We can, and do, play in “ordinary” rain but there is a limit to how much even a quick-draining green like Rudston can take in a day. (No grumbles of course, “it’ll do some good” as we always say).

RUDSTON BOWLS CLUB

The actual first match was then away at Hornsea in the bracing sea air of the promenade. We were well beaten but there was a novel distraction of hang-gliders “buzzing” us! Not that we can blame that for our rustiness. With only the one result to show in the first league table to appear Rudston could have been expected to be bottom, but another team had played and lost 2 matches with a greater minus shot difference.

We have also had our first friendly of the season, away at Leven. The score was better there, but as ever on those occasions the main thing was that everyone enjoyed Leven's usual friendliness and organisation.

At the June meeting members enjoyed a demonstration of how to make a floral posy then each made one to take home.

The next meeting is on Tuesday June 4th when Chris Gatenby will give us a local history talk. Hostesses are Margaret and Melissa Raven. Val Walker is due to give the Vote of Thanks . The competition is A Picture of a Pet.

At the County Federation Annual Meeting Rudston W.I. was presented with a Certificate of Congratulations on their 90th Anniversary as a W .I. We are very pleased to have kept the W I going in our village for this amazing length of time. When other W.Is in our neighbouring villages have closed we have gained members from them including Boynton, Wold Newton, Burton Fleming and we also have members from Bridlington and Flamborough and in the past from Carnaby .On June 4th it will be the National Annual Meeting at Bournemouth when hundreds of W.I. delegates will attend . In some areas new W.I.s are being set up and are becoming popular with younger people too. We always welcome guests and new members to Rudston W.I. and the present motto for W I is 'Inspiring Women .

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

From all at Field View, East Gate. RUDSTON.

We read the letter to the editor in the May edition regarding the complaint about the magnificent Shire Horses.

We, as a family, living on the route that these beautiful animals are taken could not believe what had been written. We thought that it must have been written on April Fools Day or by someone with a warped sense of humour. If the writer was being serious then they should seriously think of moving.

We love these horses and stop what we are doing just to see them pass by. As for the so called noise of the hoofs (Hooves)? we think it is actually less than the noise from any of the many horses that pass by. We are lucky to live in such a lovely village and I personally find the sound of horses clip clopping by gives me a warm glow.

If the complainant had neighbours with motorcycles with faulty exhausts or barking dogs then I could sympathise with them and they would have something to moan about.

Puzzles and Quizzes

I know that all of you have been waiting for a quiz on BREXIT so here it is by unpopular demand.

1. How many so-called "meaningful votes" on the Brexit withdrawal agreement have there been? (4, 2, 3, or 5)
2. Which party leader asked for Article 50 to be invoked the day after the referendum? (David Cameron, Nicola Sturgeon, Nigel Farage, Jeremy Corbyn)
3. Which Brexit minister followed his boss David Davis by resigning from the Department for Exiting the EU in July 2018? (Boris Johnson, Ben Bradley, Steve Baker or Jeremy Hunt)
4. Which Nordic country has been touted as a potential model for the UK to follow after Brexit? (Finland, Sweden, Denmark, or Norway)
5. Which area had the highest proportion of Remain voters in the 2016 EU referendum? (Islington, Lambeth, Gibraltar or Castle Point)
6. Who chairs the European Research Group, the influential Euro-sceptic group of backbench Tory MPs? (Michael Gove, Boris Johnson, Jacob Rees-Mogg, or Steve Baker)
7. Who said negotiating a post-Brexit free-trade deal with the EU should be the "easiest in human history"? (David Davis, Liam Fox, Theresa May, or Jeremy Corbyn)
8. What phrase did Theresa May first coin in her speech announcing her campaign to be prime minister in July 2016? (Strong and stable leadership, We're all in this together, Brexit means Brexit or Coalition of chaos)
9. A stretch of which motorway will become a lorry park under the UK's plans for a no-deal Brexit? (M25, M36, M20 or M11)
10. Who reportedly said they would not rest until Theresa May was "chopped up in bags in my freezer" upon taking a new job in March 2017? (David Cameron, Boris Johnson, George Osborne or Michel Barnier)
11. Who is fed up with the whole Brexit thing. (Me. You, or both of us)

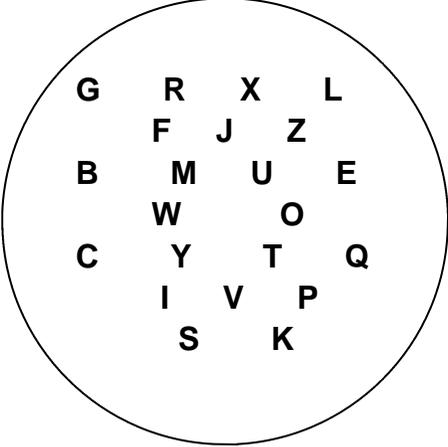

Surprised by how much you know??

For Younger Readers
